Advisory – Office of Adult Education to Host KEYSPOt Open House at ACHIEVEability in West Philly

WHEN: Tuesday, September 13, 2016, 9 a.m. to noon

WHERE: ACHIEVEability, 59 North 60th Street, Philadelphia 19139

WHO:

Curtis Jones, Jr., Member, Philadelphia City Council Invited

Jannie Blackwell, Member, Philadelphia City Council Invited

Jamila Harris-Morrison, Interim Executive Director, ACHIEVEability

Staff Representatives, Office of Adult Education and KEYSPOt

WHAT:

In celebration of 800,000 visitors to the fifty KEYSPOts throughout Philadelphia, the city's Office of Adult Education (OAE) is hosting the first open house, of several throughout September and October, at ACHIEVEability. Guests are welcome to learn more about this free public access computer center, attend pop-up classes and enjoy refreshments and giveaways.

OAE is the managing partner of KEYSPOt, the network of public, private and nonprofit organizations that provide technology, training and other opportunities through community-based public access centers. KEYSPOt is dedicated to improving educational, economic and social outcomes for all Philadelphians through technology.

About the Office of Adult Education, City of Philadelphia

The Office of Adult Education (OAE), recently expanded and renamed from the Mayor's Commission on Literacy, has worked to equip all adults in Philadelphia with the education they need for work, family and civic engagement since 1983. OAE is charged to work on behalf of over 80 literacy and workforce development programs to help the estimated 550,000 adults in the City who need to develop their workforce literacy skills and prepare to compete in our knowledge-based economy or to complete successfully postsecondary training and education. www.philaliteracy.org
